

The City of Manistee Fire Department was established in 1873. Construction on the current station began in October of 1888, completed in June of 1889 at a cost of $7,516.00. The station opened its doors at that time with Manistee's First "Fire Truck," a horse-drawn steam engine. Since then the personnel and apparatus have changed, but most of the fire station has not.

It is known to be the oldest continuously manned fire station in the state.
